

Your gateway into the UK

Robus Gibraltar

Gibraltar has had a special relationship with the UK for financial services since 2001 when legislation was enacted to establish a single market for insurance and banking between the UK and Gibraltar. This relationship is unaffected by the UK (and Gibraltar) exiting the European Union, which creates opportunities for EU domiciled insurers to access the UK through Gibraltar.

Why Gibraltar

Gibraltar is a small but nimble jurisdiction where companies can benefit from close relationships with the financial services regulator, the Gibraltar Financial Services Commission. Shorter lead times to licensing (than the UK) and being able to leverage insurance managers' experience, knowledge and support, also facilitate entry into the Gibraltar market.

Gibraltar has implemented the Solvency II regime and equivalence with the EU is expected to be maintained.

It is an English-speaking jurisdiction with good transport links to the UK and Spain, and all the professional services you could require are on your doorstep.
